

ENVIRONMENT

POLICY

East Coast Generators have a moral and legal responsibility to provide a safe and healthy environment for employees, contractors, clients, visitors and the community. This commitment extends to ensuring that our business operations do not have any negative impact on the local environment, or put the local community at risk.

We believe that all works can be carried out without harming the environment.

We recognise that commitment to the environment is a shared commitment between managers, employees, contractors, suppliers and other stakeholders.

ECG will comply with all legislation, regulations, industry standards, operating procedures and customer requirements for environmental protection and management.

We recognise and support the rights of all parties to express their concerns about the workplace environment and will address those concerns.

We will:

- promote a safe environment in our workplaces and give the environment the same importance as other key considerations
- comply with all relevant environmental legislation
- prevent pollution of the environment by activities over which we have control
- endeavour to re-use and re-cycle our materials, where possible, and dispose of waste in an appropriate manner whilst protecting the environment

Ken Maher _____ Jarrod Maher _____